

It is the wish of my heart and soul that the Sun of the divine heavens.....

Abdu'l-Bahá

Translated

[Extract from a Tablet of 'Abdu'l-Bahá]

It is the wish of my heart and soul that the Sun of the divine heavens will shine with such splendour and beauty in that country that India will become a rose-garden.... India will sweeten the palates with delectable sweetness, will mingle ambergris and musk, and mix milk with honey.
