

From the Writings of SHOGHI EFFENDI

Shoghi Effendi

Original English

I greatly value the expression of your loving sympathy and am greatly relieved by the sentiments your message conveyed. I will pray that you may be assisted, individually and collectively, to follow her inspiring example, to bring happiness to her soul, and to proclaim far and wide the purity of her life, the immensity of her love, and the supreme nobility of her character.

Notes: 11 October 1932, to the Spiritual Assembly of the Bahá'ís of Teaneck, New Jersey
